Barnett was been at McKinney,

s, in 1870. He is a grandson of Colo-James A. Bourland, a Mexican war an, colonel in the Confederate army one of the earliest settlers. File father, A. Barnett, was a Confederate sol let and one of the early settlers of Hunisounty, Texas. When quite a child Mr. John B. Barnett's parents moved from McKinney to Cooke county, and when John L. was but 13 years of age his parents again moved, going this time to Fort Worth, where the clider Barnett dee in 1884. Jehn B. Barnett was sent to school to Granbury under Prof. Fritzer. While thending school he worked on Saturdoys a printing office and learned to Fe a compositor. He then returned to Fort Werth, and in the office of the Daily Mail completed his apprenticeship. The introduction of the typosetting machines into teneral use turned his thoughts of sarning I wellhood into different channels and ediffed into railroading. In which he say now engaged as passenger brakeman on he Southern Pacific railroad.

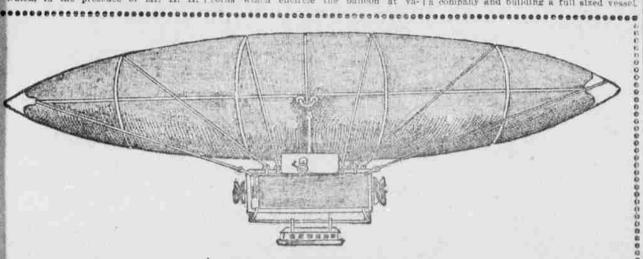

Mr. Barnett is of an inventive turn of alad and quite a genius; and since his boylood days have passed he has conceived a number of inventions, but like the majority of men, having little or no means, he has been unable to push them, and etche is have been unable to push them, and etche is have been unable to push them, and etche is have been unable to push them, and etche is have been unable to push them, and etche is have been unable to push them, and etche is have been unable to push them, and etche is have been unable to push them, and etche is have been unable to push them, and etche is have been unable to push them, and etche is have been unable to push them.
